Lindsey's Transfer Mischler To Its New Branch

"Bill" Mischler, who for nearly a year past, has been the manager of the Belle Glade branch of the Lindsey Lumber Company, the past week, received word of his transfer to the management of the company's branch in Key West, which he assumed last Monday.

While here Mischler made a large group of friends and was active in the Lions club and in the football circles and proved himself a pretty friendly type of a "guy." Your local friends in Belle Glade wish you success in your new home town and business, Bill.

Mischler is quite a fisherman, and at Key West, he will have plenty of opportunity to follow this interesting pastime.

Fritz Stein's Truck Takes Plunge Into Waters Of Canal

On Friday afternoon, Walter Stein, borrowed neighbor Fritz Stein's truck and platform trailer to handle a cargo of planter machines which he was moving to the Brown Road farm, in charge of Adam Rees, colored operator. Coming from the farm, at a point opposite Frier's garage, a car had stopped quickly, and Rees could not check his heavy rolling truck to prevent striking the car, so he pulled the nose of his truck in between the space of the pine trees, which went into the water at the edge of the canal. The front left wheel of the trailer, struck solidly against a tree and stopped right there.

Rees states that he could not tell just what happened, except that all of a sudden he was flying through the air and landed in the waters of the canal. He was rushed from the canal-side to the Memorial Hospital where his head wound was dressed, and he was permitted release. The Stein motor unit in Belle Glade wish you success in your new home town and business, Bill.

Mischler is quite a fisherman, and at Key West, he will have plenty of opportunity to follow this interesting pastime.

Crate Manufacturing A Big Business In Florida

Wooden crates and boxes with a value of approximately $15 million are manufactured annually in Florida, according to the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

The Weekly Business Review, prepared by the research and industrial division of the State Chamber, reports this total as 142 percent above the value of these products in 1939.

The manufacture of wood containers of various types is important to the harvesting and shipping of Florida's enormous fruit and vegetable crops.

The latest detailed figures on this industry are for 1947, and show a total of 22 establishments with 3,034 employees, and an annual payroll of $4,669,000.

These box plants purchased materials, supplies, fuel, electricity and services totaling $6,281,000. Costs of these items, plus wages and salaries, amounted to 76 percent of the $14,972,000 value of the finished products. Out of the remaining 24 percent were paid rent, taxes, insurance depreciation on property and profits.

In addition to the 28 plants manufacturing wooden boxes, eleven other Florida plants manufacture cigar boxes, baskets, barrels and kegs, and employ approximately 470 people.

All of these plants use wood, wholly or in part, as a raw material.

Citrus Concentrate Becoming The Drink Favored By The People

Popularity of frozen concentrated orange juice is increasing so fast it may soon be listed as the national fruit drink. To keep Americans supplied with enough frozen juice, between 9 and 10 million gallons of orange juice were packed during the 1948-1949 citrus season, according to figures compiled by American Can Company. The company's plant here is a major supplier of the six-ounce cans in which the greater part of the frozen concentrated orange juice pack goes to market.

With the demand for juice in this form increasing so rapidly, conservative estimate places the pack for the 1949-1950 citrus season at 20 million gallons. Since one box of oranges produces a gallon of concentrated juice, this pack would make use of 25 to 30 percent of Florida's orange crop and would require the equivalent of 400 million oranges.

An indication of how rapidly America's taste for frozen concentrated juice is growing is indicated by the fact that the first pack of the new product, made five years ago, totaled only 225,000 gallons.

Another Florida product rapidly gaining favor with a fruit conscious nation is frozen concentrated grapefruit juice, which is newer to the market than orange juice. The American Can Company estimates this product will be packed at about the same rate as frozen orange juice two years ago, indicating a pack of about 1,900,000 gallons requiring more than 10 million cans of varying sizes.

X-Ray Fitting Of Shoes May Be Bad Health Detriment

The Florida State Board of Health is making a study of the possible dangers associated with the use of X-rays in shoe fitting. Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, state health officer said, here today.

The study is being made in this State as a result of a recent account by two Harvard physicians which stated that improper use of such X-rays was dangerous, especially to children. It may even result in stunting of bone growth.

At the moment, stated Dr. Sowder, "it is impossible to say whether or not any shoe-fitting X-ray machines in this State are injuring the health of persons exposed to them."

"However, according to reports of studies made in Detroit and New York, it is possible to eliminate any danger from use of these machines by taking proper precautions."

Consultation in the study here is being furnished by physicians specially trained in X-ray work, Dr. Sowder said.

Noted Northern Mason Had Many Friends In South Florida

Members of Lake Worth Consistory and Mahi Shrine, and district workers in the DeMolay Order, have been appraised of the recent death of John S. Wallace, a wealthy retired industrialist of New Castle, Pa., on August 25th, after a short illness. He was a 33rd Degree member of the Northern Consistory, and for many years had frequently attended sessions of the Southern branch of the Order in Florida.

He was a man of great personal attraction, who had legion of friends in Masonic circles all over the northern and southern jurisdictions. He was one of the organizers and promoters of the Order of DeMolay and was instrumental in having Joe Cherry institute Okeechobee chapter in Belle Glade, and had a like interest in the Rainbow Girls, of which our city also has the No. 1 chapter in Florida. He was a personal friend of Judge John Gledhill, who has on several occasions been a guest in his palatial home while attending Consistory sessions in New Castle.

Lake Worth Ramblers Defeat Jupiter To Capture League Pennant

The Lake Worth Ramblers played the final of the runoff games in the Coast-Glades baseball league, at Lake Worth, Sunday afternoon, and topped the Jupiter contenders by a score of 8 to 1. The Arnold team was not able to overcome a four run lead that the Lake Worthians ran up in the third inning. The Ramblers will now be able to fly the league pennant from the flagpole during the 1950 season.

Clewiston, like Belle Glade, fell away on its playing the past season, and we gain from those who know, that it was from lack of team practice that they did not show up better in the race.

The Coast town teams seem to get a lot more kick out of the scheduled games than do the Glades towns. In Belle Glade, home town support was nil, and the Independents played most of their games out of town. Okeechobee got a late start and had a limited number of players from which to form a team, but they were game, and played out the season schedule not withstanding the Catfish were in the cellar position. Boynton did not prove any too hot this season.

Roy Blair Will Speak Before Convention At Charleston, Oct. 1

Roy Blair, the grass and pasture expert at the Everglades Experiment Station, will attend the convention of the American Brahman Association at Charleston, S. C., and on October 1, will be one of the speakers of the day's program, of course, on the subject with which he is so familiar, grasses and pastures.

The Belle Glade Herald is making an innovation among weekly papers in Florida, in that it has subsidized a page of its issue, to chronicle the comings and goings and doings of the vast negro population in and around Belle Glade. The colored Civic League and School forces are doing real things for the advancement of their race, and are giving full backing and support through their own force of writers, to make the Herald page a success. Some merchants claim that the negroes do not read, but the Herald's subscription list, drug store and street sales belie this statement.

Floridians have become accustomed to paying all kinds of Federal, State, County and City taxes, so an added 3 percent sales tax which faces on and after November 1st, will be another burden which will be added to tax load. Thank God the Legislature, did give us exemptions on a pretty liberal list of home, farm and industrial commodities. Represented by Bollinger and Elliott in the House cast their votes against the measure.

The soldier city of Zephyrhills, which has been without a bank for the past 20 years, is again to have a bank, a unit in the McNulty chain. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Peel, who have been the officers at the Bank of Okeechobee have been named as the active managers of the new bank at Zephyrhills. Mr. and Mrs. Warren McNulty, of Melbourne, are shifted to the management of the Okeechobee Bank. Zephyrhills people have been doing their banking business at Dade City, Plant City and Tampa, and are now happy over the advent of the bank, which is to be housed in a fine new banking house on Main Street.

The Chase groves at Ft. Myers, through the Lee Packing Company, shipped the first consignment of Lee County grapefruit to market, consisting of 4,000 boxes. Lee County has a fine crop of citrus, which will aid in making up the deficit by the heavy storm losses in the Indian River section.

The ill of the drum and bugle corps, the stirring band and the veterans marching down the street in true service cadence, with floats setting off the scene, will present a stirring event and picture in Belle Glade on Armistice Day.

In the season wind up games in professional baseball, fans are getting the money's worth of sport, for the leading teams contending for first place honor or putting on world series performances. Tight pitching, close field play, and some heavy hitting are sparking the games. Who wouldn't, if he be a baseball fan, like to see those world series games? Guess, I for one, will have to be satisfied with the radio reports.

The home which Judge Tedder is to provide for his wife and self, will be a dandy, a replica of the Clarence Aspley home on Lake Road. The Judge will not need jeopardize his "barbecue pit" to make room for the new structure. The present home is to be related to a back lot location.

As a result of the adjudication of the value of the English pound, which had a marketable value of $4.00, American investors will now need pay only $2.80, for this high British monetary unit. This act was enacted so as to brace the British economy program and increase business both in imports and exports. The common run of British citizens have had a taste of Socialistic government under the Labor Party, and they have not liked it any too much. Empty stomachs and shivering bodies and lack of common necessities never bring ease, comfort or satisfaction to those who have to endure such tenures in life.

Personal politics can make or break any municipality. Selfish interests, manipulated by undercover tactics, oft times stop the wheels of progress. Already Belle Glade people are beginning to wonder if the numerous changes in our own city government will prove to the benefit of the city at large.

American people give liberally of their means to the American Red Cross to meet health and disaster calls. When the call comes the Red Cross is right on the spot to alleviate situations where care, medical and surgical care, and rehabilitation aids are needed. Our losses in the Glades and country from the recent hurricane got just such prompt attention, and some of the liberal local money donated to the Society, has come back to us in a time of pressing need. The Red Cross is one public service unit that can sustain its value to the good of humanity. Its field is the entire world, it sent plenty of aid and relief to stricken Ecuador in the recent earthquake disaster, and that boat burning episode at the docks in Toronto.

Government bonds continue to sell well, and Florida, is one of the states where citizens are making large purchases of such investment as ever 46 million of such securities were purchased in August. In South Florida counties purchases are enumerated as follows: Dade, $10,250,000; Palm Beach, $2,188,351; Broward, $1,675,000. Pretty good securities to possess.

M. Michael, who spent the summer up in Minnesota and Wisconsin, measuring the Norwegian and Swedish people for new clothing garments, has returned to Belle Glade, where he operated during the so called winter season. Ore mining operation are still going on at a big scale in the head of the lakes states. The Glades looks good to Michael.

Several business propositions for the Glades are in the incubation stage, but when the hatching period arrives, the returns will be well worth the time and money expended in securing them. Outside investors are reading and getting more than interested in the investment possibilities of our rich agro-industrial section.

Patrons of the local football games are urged to be helpful and carry out the orders given by the persons who are directing traffic. Much confusion will be avoided if this suggestion is carried out. Liquor drinking will not be tolerated in the stands, or on the grounds, so better leave that rooming stimulating bottle at home, and save police court visit.

There is one boy bicycle rider who is breaking up the six o'clock sleep of residents on S.E. Fourth Street. The galaxy of dogs down there apparently do not like a bicycle rider, and as a result make a merry barking chase after the speeding lad. Don't know whether the dogs or the boy get the most entertainment, but my prediction, the lad is in for a bad spill some of these mornings, when he gets tangled up with one or more dogs.

A three hour hurricane storm, which sweeps over most of a state, as we had in Florida recently, can cause a vast amount of damage. Losses are now placed at $55,000,000.

The parents, teachers and pupils at the Belle Glade Negro Elementary School are as proud as peacocks, over their modern school plant. Now when the new athletic field is provided the colored people will be pretty well and satisfactorily fitted up with educational facilities. The school clubs will provide plenty of excellent entertainment for the colored populace. More and more each year desirable colored people are staying here, the year round, providing themselves with better homes and endeavoring to build up the moral condition of the colony.

The American dollar is the most valuable and respected money in all the world and the most sought after by the nations of the world. Uncle Sam has the resources so that he can stabilize his money system. We people sometimes howl, because we think the tax pressure is applied pretty heavy and stringent on our earnings and incomes, but even that, we are the most favored people of the universe.

We may have our poor and needy, who are fairly well cared for by federal and state funds, but the majority of our population are far from indigent, poor and in need. Most of us have a place to live, clothing to wear, food to eat and still have funds left over for good, wholesome recreation and travel.

Would you change your citizenship, and the opportunity the nation gives you to be free from the "iron curtain," penalties and slavery? The eyes of all nations are on our Nation, for if it succeeds and is provident, then they knowing of our generosity for the underdogs, feel confident that they are going to get some success. If it is nothing more than a bone to chew upon.

The American dollar is now the basis of all commercial business; our American made goods are in demand, we have the shipping to move cargoes to any part of the globe, so our national outlook is not of a discouraging nature. Hurrah, for Uncle Sam and his great power as the leader of nations.

By next season, most all of the schools of the Gulf Stream Conference will be having reserved season ticket spaces in their bleachers, to assist in swelling school athletic funds. Pahokee has formed an Advisory Committee for its school athletic program, similar to the one now functioning in south lake territory area.

Local civic bodies are all showing a spirit of co-operation to aid the American Legion make its big celebration on Armistice Day a success. Things are lining up most auspiciously for this big event. District Legion Posts are planning on giving their support by the furnished large delegations. Belle Glade will likely see the largest assemblage present that has ever gathered here. That Legion parade promises to be something worth while and worth viewing. The announced barbecue and night football game sound like being good crowd drawers. Our city will have an appearance of war!

Consumers' Problems

By Mrs. Ora D. Lee

Mrs. Lee has done special research on this problem at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, Hampton Institute, Virginia, and Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

The consumer problems are not confined to my community alone but it is found in any community in the United States. However, there are problems within consumer research that are confined to some localities more than others.

Many consumers do not know that chickens are graded according to age, hence many times the consumer carries home an old hen that looks like a young bird.

Chickens are broilers when 8 to 12 weeks old; fryers when 14 to 20 weeks old; roasters when 5 to 6 months old. So, when you are to buy chicken again, inquire some of these things about it.

We shall not forget that men as well as children help to do the buying and should be included in consumer education programs to make them more intelligent buyers.

Market changes are of four types which influence the type of buying according to time of buying:

1. Those affecting price: 2. quality, 3. variety, and 4. ease of shopping depends upon day, hour, and time of shopping.

The following rules are extracted from "A Guide To Consumer Education" which will help the consumer to solve the buying problem:

1. Plan the family wardrobe in advance and take advantage of special sales.
2. Plan color combinations around basic coat, hat, and shoe colors.
3. Remember one complete, good looking outfit in which you can always feel your best is better than several of which you are not certain.

4. Buy becoming and well made school clothes and put less money in clothes you do not wear often.
5. Buy simple classic styles; you won't tire of them.
6. Avoid buying clothing with trimming that will not clean or wash well.
7. Tailored coats are better than two pairs for the limited budget.
8. Two pairs of shoes, worn alternately, last longer than one pair of shoes worn constantly.
9. Wear socks or aprons while doing housework to save the better clothing.
10. When buying a dress, see that the following features are satisfied:

- A. Proper fit over the shoulders.
- B. Neatly finished collar.
- C. Proper fit over hips.
- D. Even hemlines.
- E. Well made seams.
- F. Good quality material.
- G. Sufficient elbow room to allow proper movement.
- H. Good quality.
- I. How to buy a coat:

- A. Choose a fabric that is firm.
- B. Read the label to see that percentage of wool (tweed, reposed, or creased wool) is in proper proportion according to regulations.
- C. When buying wear the coat suit or dress, shoes and hat with becoming hairdo to get a real picture of yourself and the new coat.
- D. See that the coat is practical.

11. How to buy a slip:

- A. Examine for following: fiber content and washing directions.
- B. Type of top.
- C. Double stitched seams.
- D. Correct length and a neat hem line.
- E. Comfortable fit at bust.
- F. No strain at hips.
- G. Shadow proof panel.
- H. Price according to value.

12. How to buy stockings:

- A. Examine the new hose carefully.
- B. Buy according to the thread gauge for different service.

Christianity does not exempt one from death, it only insures a happy death. One died, Paul died, and all must die, because Jesus died. There are no exemptions from death.

The heavenly Father's house. Soon all will be over with all that are here. Consider your state of mind. There is no death in all of us that hidden certainty of death. There are some who are within a hand's reach of the grave and yet it does not appear who it is, because we were all so shocked when we heard that Deacon Hart had passed away. Although we knew he was not well, his arm kept his real strength hidden from us; but, our Lord knew and in His own time He would reveal all of his servants. The sudden and what we call untimely death of those who are prepared to go may be regarded as a blessing to them.

Sam Hart was born in Florence, South Carolina about 78 years ago. When quite a young man he was converted and joined the Church under the leadership of Rev. Doc Pierce. He was married to Amanda Evans and to this union 5 children were born, this wife passed on about some twenty years ago he came to this city, and in 1938 he became a member of the New Bethel Baptist Church under the pastorage of Rev. C. H. Whitaker. Quite some years ago he showed signs of having genuine religion and qualification of a Deacon, so he was ordained as a Deacon and proved faithful to that office as a soldier, a Christian soldier, ever ready to wage war with the enemies of the church. He was the Deacon who was ever ready to go forward and help in every way he could to bring things to pass. He made his way by his work; he was known as the friendly Deacon. He would visit all churches regardless of denomination, and endeavored to have anybody come to his church that was such a thing to him. He never tired of doing whatever his hand found to do, he was such an untiring worker and he set this example: "Go into the highways and edges and compel them to come." He not only went out after the unsaved, but he would go after the careless and unconcerned, and delinquent members. He would go to see the sick members, and friends and report the same to the Church and urge others to go; he would do all this and yet he was found in his church services, or whatever his Church was engaged in. He would inquire about the various meetings and attended many of them. He loved his Church; he enjoyed God preaching and singing and he would encourage the speakers or singers with his "Amen."

He was a lively stone in the Church. His favorite hymns were: "I Shall Not Be Moved" and "I Want To Go Where Jesus Is."

He was married to Mrs. Daisy Rabin, April 16th, 1945. He was a loving husband and a devoted father to his children. He was faithful to his family and strove to make them comfortable and happy. He taught his children to be God loving and God fearing and that to be Christians are one of the greatest things in life. Deacon Hart departed his life Saturday, Sept. 24, 1949, about 11 p.m.

He leaves to mourn his passing a devoted and loving wife, 2 daughters, 3 sons, 10 stepchildren, and a host of other sorrowing relatives and friends.

To say we will miss him is too mild, yet when a great man like Deacon Hart dies, for years the light he leaves behind, lights the pass for others.

He told Mrs. Maggie last Saturday while buying groceries at Roy's, that there would be a good meeting at our church soon, but I want to be there, but you must attend it. He said if I take one long breath it would be the end.

Vocational High Band

By Martin M. Hamilton Band Director

Everglades Vocational High Starts A Band

After years of anticipation and anxiety, the Community and the Everglades Vocational High School will soon see one of its cherished dreams become a reality.

Under the leadership of Principal Britten G. Styles with the cooperation of the faculty of the Everglades Vocational High School, the County Superintendent Howell G. Watkins appointed a Band Instructor. Teacher to the school faculty.

The idea of a Band for the High School has aroused great interest among the community and student body. More than forty students have expressed their desire and ambition to become members of the School Band by enrolling for instrumental music and band instructions.

Parents whose children show an interest in instrumental music and are in the Everglades are urged to encourage their children to participate in the school band.

Of course with the organization of a school band go a number of problems of which the securing of instruments is the greatest. The principal and band instructor, with the cooperation of the school faculty and community, have some plans to solve a few of these problems.

A few musical instruments will be made available for the participating students in the

SCHOOL NEWS OF EVERGLADES VOCATIONAL HIGH

By Cecil Miller

On the first day of school, 210 students enrolled; we now have an enrollment of 310. Our faculty consists of sixteen teachers and the principal.

The faculty is striving to improve the entire curriculum in our school program. Miss Keys, our music teacher, has set up theory classes in public school so that everyone will be more familiar with the piano, as well as the historical background of music in general. Mrs. Bailey, the girl's physical education teacher, is working diligently with the girls in their physical education classes. She is trying to build up the drill team and pep squad, as well as having tryouts for majorettes.

Mr. Hamilton, our band instructor, is working patiently with the members of the band in order that they may have a well organized band this school year. Mr. Perry, the boys' physical education teacher, has set up the football team so that they may well represent our school on the gridiron. Our first football game is being played in Melbourne on October 7, and our first home game will be played on October 14, at Memorial field.

Mr. Styles, our principal, is urging all students who are of our school to enroll now so that we may settle down to a sound academic program.

P.T.A. Holds First Meeting

The Parents-Teacher Association of Lake Shore Elementary School held its first meeting of the term on Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Approximately 25 or 30 parents were present. Several important reports and communications were read; after which there was a great deal of discussion of the group began to formulate plans for the 1949-50 school year.

High on the list of plans for the term was the matter of sponsoring the new school lunch program. A well-equipped lunch room has long been one of the prime objectives of the local organization. Now that the objective is very close to realization, the organization felt that its objective should now be 100 percent participation in the program by all pupils and parents. Tentative plans were made toward the realization of this latter objective.

Among those present at the meeting was Mrs. Mary Jane Alexander, who has been selected as luncheon manager for the term. When called upon for remarks, Mrs. Alexander explained the type of lunch to be served and its value. "Statistics have shown," she said, "that pupils who participate in the school lunch program generally show marked improvement not only in physical well-being, but also in scholarship and general achievement in school subjects." She stated further that she is depending upon the full support of each parent in closing the school in order to make the program a success. In closing she stated that the school would continue to work with parents and civic organizations in an effort to improve living in the community.

The next meeting of the P.T.A. is scheduled for Monday evening, October 3.
